

Peaceful will return

Human life in urban areas is often noisy, stressful, dusty and a lot of pressure on rice and money. Finding space as well as a peaceful and quiet life after hard working days is a difficult thing for urban life.

It seemed that the streets that could hardly find the Solifude were really deserted now. The Solifude is not a shadow. The house is closed, no traffic is coming. Is that space really peaceful? Not really. The coming of the Covid epidemic had extinguished that noisy and noisy metropolis. The space is too quiet, the streets are empty, is that peaceful? The peace is terrifying. Scary of very fragile life and death caused by epidemics.

Going too soon and always praying for peace will soon return in its true sense of peaceful life.

Works using woodcut materials, relief print.