

Jewelry Design "from the waste generated by my family during COVID-19 Crisis to Contemporary Jewelry" Project

Due to the coronavirus outbreak (Covid-19) in Thailand, people will be impacted on their daily life by creating new patterns of behavior or lifestyles known as "New normal" which is online food ordering/delivery. Almost every household will have to stay at home for a long time. This situation undeniably affects one of four basic needs like food. People cannot go out and buy ingredients for cooking. Therefore, online food service is pretty interesting for them. The advantages of ordering food online are safety from germs and comfort. On the other hand, enormous amount of plastic is produced during this time. On behalf of a designer in the modern society, I intend to remind people in Thai society to be aware of the increasing amount of waste and try to reduce it, realize the value of waste and the cohabitation with the environment and conserve the environment throughout this situation.

I have a desire to create jewelry by using plastic waste from online food service during the coronavirus outbreak (Covid-19). It was created through jewelry that represents the potential of material processing and creating beauty values.

Want to create contemporary jewelry made out of plastic waste from online food orders to alert humans to the environmental impact of the growing amount of plastic waste. This is due to online food consumption (coivd19) and is fully aware of the environmental issues of online food consumption with other viruses in the future.
